Superior Group provides Wigan Warriors with warm winter weather and fantastic facilities

Rugby League heroes Wigan Warriors' 2005 Super League X campaign has been boosted by training at the Superior Group's Regal Palms Sports and Leisure Club, Orlando

February, 2005 - When a successful Rugby League team like Wigan Warriors needs to focus on getting fit for the start of the new Super League X campaign which starts on February 11th, what better place to go than Florida, where the average January temperature is a balmy 72 degrees? And what better venue to choose than an exclusive resort near Orlando, Florida, with state-of-the-art sports, leisure and business facilities? That's why the team that finished number 4 in last year's Super League IX table spent 10 days honing their fitness and rugby skills at the Superior Group's Regal Palms Sports and Leisure Club this January.

The Warriors are the first team to use this brand-new resort development, and were impressed by the quality of the facilities. "Being able to access excellent facilities like these in a climate that's conducive to outdoor training makes all the difference to our fitness campaign," says team coach Denis Betts. "Regal Palms offers all this plus privacy and security for all our players."

Chris North, Chairman of the international property development specialist, says, "Regal Palms, like our other exclusive resorts in Florida, offers fantastic facilities, not only for sports professionals like Wigan Warriors but for anyone who wants luxury accommodation. It's ideal as an all-year-round residence, as a holiday home with great rental potential, or as an investment property. Alternatively, anyone can enjoy the experience by renting a villa or townhouse there."

Regal Palms' luxurious, fully furnished, air-conditioned villas are set in tropical landscaped gardens. The complex is adjacent to the prestigious Highlands Reserve Golf Club and just a few minutes drive from the entrance to Disney, so is ideal for golfers and families. It has a pool complex, tennis courts, children's play area, gym, health club and restaurants, all in a private, gated community with round-the-clock security.
